

Information sheet & statement of consent for parents/legal guardians

Participation of minors at Bauhaus Short Term Programmes.

The Bauhaus-Universität Weimar points out that participation of minors (persons under the age of 18 according to § 2 of the German Civil Code (BGB)) at Bauhaus Short Term Programmes is only allowed in exceptional circumstances and only with prior approval of the project management (according to the terms) and the parents/legal guardians.

With the admission of minor participants Bauhaus-Universität Weimar does not assume any obligation to supervise them or take care of them in any manner than extend beyond the standard applicable treatment of adult participants.

The participation in the courses of Bauhaus Short Term Programmes and further activities of the programme takes place in full responsibility of the minor participants. The parents/legal guardians are not discharged from their duty of supervision. This duty is not passed to the Bauhaus-Universität Weimar.

Parents/legal guardians are liable for their children.

By signing this document you agree that the below mentioned minor participant may participate at Bauhaus Short Term Programmes under the conditions set out above.
